Burg Schlitz:

Have a Taste of Spring

Out of Doors at last

Hohen Demzin 1/2012. It is the second spring now which Manuela and Armin Hoeck experience at Burg Schlitz. Having acquired this estate deep in the heart of Mecklenburg Switzerland one year ago, the new castle-owners are expecting this season with great anticipation. Because they know: with the awakening of spring, the 450 acres of English Landscape Park surrounding Burg Schlitz are transformed into a wavy sea of flowers. You will never tire of looking at it! Get out of doors and have a taste of spring! And that's exactly the title of the hotel's new package for all those spring explorers who love the joy of discovery.

The first to come up are snowbells and daffodils, which are followed by windflowers. And so on, in colourful succession until at last the old trees, which are the park's unique characteristic, come into leaf. If you want to set out on an exploration tour, there is no need to do it by shanks's pony. The castle-owners will be only too delighted to harness the horses for you. Have a ride through the park with a historical carriage drawn by pitch-black shining Frisian horses. During a stop at the Louisen-Lake enjoy the view and silence while having a refreshing cup of birch-bud tea and some sweet violet macarons. For longer rides a picnic basket is available, as carriage trips stimulate your appetite.

New Park-Guide Booklet accompanies through the Castle-Park

Who would like to explore the park by walking, will find quite a lot of interesting "Strolls through the Landscape of Burg Schlitz" in the new park-booklet. More than 50 monuments are to be visited. They all tell a story, according to the two authors well acquainted with the history of Burg Schlitz. Highlight is the "Fountain of the Nymphs", however, there are also stone-settings in memory of animalistic companions most dearly loved by the masters of Burg Schlitz. The authors also pay attention to dendrologic characteristics, as various kinds of magnificent trees are a unique feature of this park. Here, you can still find them, those peaceful giants: Oaks of five hundred years of age, one-hundred-and-eighty-year-old copper beeches, a yellow flowering cucumber-magnolia just as advanced in years, as well as a Gingko tree which has already seen a lot of guests coming and going. The knowledgeably written and appealingly designed booklet comprises more than 200 pages, but will nevertheless find space in every handbag.

New “Green Luxury Day SPA” utilizes the Power of Nature

Pamper your skin with sheer nature at the new “Green Luxury Day SPA”, for instance with a daffodil- or fig-milk bath, available also for couples. Or submerge into the warm floods of an indoor swimming-pool, enjoy a sauna and steam bath and spend your time day-dreaming towards the evening, which is generally crowned by delectabilities from the Castle-Kitchen. Whether a little spring menu in the great Crest-Hall or a private candle-light dinner, whether you learn cooking or learn about wild herbs, here is nothing left to be desired.
